

PREACHING CURRICULUM

AN ORTHODOX VIEW OF GOD

GEN 1:1; ROM 1:18-20, 24; JOHN 1:1-2; 1 COR 2:14

"...theology proper leads us to doxology..."

1

REVIEW THE SERMON

What is orthodoxy? Why is it important to teach doctrine and theology in order to promote orthodoxy?

Why is it so vitally important that our final authority for truth is the Bible? Why is the truth contained within the Bible superior to all other revelation?

What is theology and its effect on our understanding of biblical doctrine? What is biblical theology? What is systematic theology? Why is it important for us to study and preach systematic theology? What is theology proper?

How is trinitarian theology able to answer the question of God's relationality in a way that no other conception of god can?

2

ASSESS YOUR LIFE

Do you accept the existence of God by faith? How is this displayed in your life? What does the truth of God's omnipotence mean in your life?

How would you define faith? How is faith responding to divine revelation?

How do you understand who you are and what God has done for you? How do we spiritually discern what is true?

Why is the problem of sin in this world not a problem of lack of revelation from God (Rom. 1:18), but rather a problem in us?

3

APPLY THE TRUTH

What are some of the most fundamental aspects of God's character? Why study the attributes of God? _____

What are some of the communicable attributes of God (those that we can be a part of)? How does this make Him the standard of how to live? _____

What are some of the incommunicable attributes of God (those that we have no part of)? How do these guide our worship? _____

4

COMMIT THIS WEEK

He IS; He is almighty; and He is the creator of all things; how will you focus on these truths this week and avoid being misled by any lie that speaks otherwise and leads to worshiping someone or something, unworthy of your worship?
